MARGARET'S SCHEDULE

Kids Will See Royalty First

School children will be given first priority to see HRH Princess Margaret when she arrives here to officially open Lake Okanagan bridge.

Preliminary plans for the royal visit were discussed at a special meeting last evening. It is anticipated close to 20,000 visitors will be here for the bridge opening July 19.

Children throughout School District 23 will be ushered into Ogoogo stadium about an hour before the Princess arrives by sea-plane, at 5:05 p.m. on July 18. She will be given a rousing welcome by some 5,500-odd students when she steps from the seaplane in front of the Aquatic.

Official welcoming ceremonies will be brief. Princess Margaret will be introduced to Mayor R. F. Parkinson; Reeve P. R. Mowbray of Glenora; and Reeve Ivor Jackson, of Peachland. She then will drive slowly out of the park, up Bernard Avenue to Pandosy Street, and then to temporary Government House, home of J. Bruce Smith, at Okanagan Mission.

Princess Margaret will officially open the bridge at 12 noon July 19. Ceremony will last about one hour although it is not known whether she will speak. Tentative plans call for her cutting a ribbon stretching across the causeway and unveiling a plaque before driving across the pontoon bridge.

Senior citizens and old-timers will be given seating priority in the grandstand for the bridge ceremony. Later Princess Margaret will attend a luncheon at the Aquatic. As it will be impossible to accommodate everyone, the luncheon will be limited to 400 male guests. Wives of distinguished visitors will be entertained at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club while the luncheon is in progress.

An aquacade, band concerts, fireworks, an RCAF fly-past and dancing on the blacktop area in the city park are among the items of entertainment. The B.C. Lions inter-squad football game is also on tap for the evening of July 19.

Total of 5,500 special tickets will be distributed among school children for admittance to Ogoogo stadium. Students will start filing into the grandstand at 3:45 p.m. July 18, and if there are any vacant seats by 4:30, doors will be thrown open to the public. The Princess is due to arrive at 5:05 p.m.

The Kelowna and District Restaurant association assured the special committee that local restaurants will be capable of feeding the huge influx of visitors. Restaurateurs held a special meeting and a survey disclosed there are 2,248 seats in eating establishments in the immediate area. Based on an average turnover of 10 sittings, this would take care of more than 22,000 people.

Drive-in restaurants will be able to handle another 4,000, it was estimated. Box lunches will also be available. The local restaurant association was opposed to setting up mass feeding stations, because of the danger of food poisoning. Eric Loken, spokesman for the group, declared.

In view of the assurance given by restaurant owners, the bridge committee will thank church groups for their offer to set up special eating facilities.

Vancouver OK's Sunday Sports

VANCOUVER (CP) — After years of heated controversy and prolonged litigation, commercial Sunday sport has been made legal in Vancouver at least for the next few months.

Twelve days after the British Columbia Court of Appeal handed down a 3-to-2 majority decision approving provincial legislation placing the decision in the hands of the city, council passed a by-law Tuesday night making it permissible to conduct 14 specified sports on the Sabbath for gain.

City To Clean Up For Royal Visit

Kelowna and district residents, particularly those living along the route that will be travelled by Princess Margaret, are being urged to "paint-up, clean-up and spruce-up" homes and property.

The city is currently grading the edge of Pandosy Street, and the provincial department of highways indicates similar steps will be taken outside municipal boundaries. The princess will take up residence at the temporary Government House, the home of J. Bruce Smith at Okanagan Mission.

Mission residents will be requested to co-operate in tidying up their property, while it is hoped that those living along Pandosy Street and Okanagan Mission road will decorate their homes with flags and bunting.

It is expected Princess Margaret will travel to and from her official residence on numerous occasions during the three days she is in the city.

Prince Philip Involved In Auto Mishap Outside London Palace

LONDON (Reuters) — Prince Philip was involved in an automobile mishap today on his way to address a meeting on road safety.

He was unhurt in the slight accident with a taxi, which took place outside Buckingham Palace.

Philip was in a chauffeur-driven limousine accompanied by Lt.-Gen. Sir Frederick Browning, treasurer to the duke's household, and his detective escort.

The car collided with the taxi. After stopping briefly, both vehicles continued on their journeys.

Philip was on his way to attend the annual meeting of the Automobile Association.

Labor, Cabinet Disagree On Unemployment

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor leaders and cabinet ministers disagreed on effectiveness of government action against unemployment as a delegation of unemployed called on the government Tuesday.

The Ontario-Quebec delegation, including top officers of the 1,000,000-member Canadian Labor Congress and the 75,000-member United Automobile Workers, met with a group of ministers.

Bill Dodge, CLC executive vice-president, said unemployment is not being dealt with "in the proper sense of urgency."

Citizenship Minister Ellen Fairclough, acting for absent Labor Minister Starr, answered: "Your aim of full employment is precisely that of the government. We have a serious situation and we have never stopped considering it." She would bring the submission personally to the attention of Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Nine Provinces Want Road Deal

OTTAWA (CP) — Nine provinces —all except Quebec—now have notified the federal government they want to enter agreements on cost-sharing for roads, entering into natural resources areas, Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton said today.

Heavy Downpour Brings Short Relief To District

Heavy rainfall of short duration just after 6:50 p.m. Tuesday has brought some relief to parched forests and came in time in the city to help quell a shed fire.

Forest ranger Bert Hewlett this morning described forest fire hazard locally as "not quite as severe"—but this applied only to areas where last night's rain fell.

It was a spotty downpour, with Okanagan Mission getting none at all.

In the city the heavy fall, which lasted for about 20 minutes, started just after Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade arrived at Cavston and Ellis call box in response to a general alarm.

Fire already was blazing through a roof in a shed at the rear of Pettman's Grocery when the downpour struck. The crowd of onlookers hastily took shelter. Many volunteer firemen reported the inside of their cars—left parked with windows wide open—were drenched by the wind-whipped rain.

STARTED IN SAWDUST

The fire was believed to have started in a section where sawdust is stored. While the possibility of spontaneous combustion is allowed by Fire Chief Charles Pettman, he is inclined to believe it was started by a spark or a cigarette.

The shed was heavily damaged. A fire truck was called back to the scene during the night when smouldering sawdust was on the point of erupting into flames a second time.

Meanwhile, the forest fire at Whelan Creek is on the "patrol" basis and is "practically out."

To date, Kelowna district has

CPR Train Hits Debris; Four Diesels Jump Bank

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 65-car CPR freight train, loaded with wheat, splashed into a mound of mud and debris Tuesday night 42 miles east of Kamloops, B.C.

Four diesel units went crashing 150 feet down an embankment and 13 freight cars also were derailed, seven of them going over the embankment for varying distances.

A fireman on the westbound train, identified as Z. Bede, suffered minor head cuts. The other four crew members escaped injury.

Canada-U.S. Relations Need Lift From The South, Says Senator been hit by 10 forest fires, all small. Losses have been light.

Whelan Creek fire, covering two acres, was described as the "worst so far this year" in the Kelowna area.

The derailment occurred at Squilax, on the CPR's main east-west line, at about 8 p.m. and was responsible for delays and detours in transcontinental runs.

All four of the CPR's main transcontinental passenger trains were affected by the derailment.

The westbound Canadian was not expected in Vancouver until 2 p.m. today, four hours after its scheduled arrival.

The westbound Dominion was at Squilax, being used to clear the tracks.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ROUNDUP

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Searchlight Tattoo drew 2,000 more people here Tuesday night than Monday night for a total attendance of close to 10,000.

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A case of paratyphoid fever has been confirmed here and three suspected cases are under isolation at hospital. No general vaccination was being considered.

BOSTON BAR (CP) — The Fraser Brigade, paddling hard against the stiffest winds they've encountered in a month of re-enacting Simon Fraser's voyage down the Fraser River, landed at this tiny river community Monday night.

ROSSLAND (CP) — Paddy Bell appeared before city council here Monday night, attempting to find out what happened to his mongrel dog, Kelly. The five-year-old mutt was poisoned by strychnine last week and in the ensuing hassle the city poundkeeper resigned. Kelly, the pet of the nine Bell children, was impounded for not wearing a tag according to city bylaws. Later he was found dead in the pound.

VICTORIA (CP) — Health Minister Eric Martin said Tuesday agreement has been reached between Ottawa and B.C. under which the province will enter the national health insurance scheme within "the next few days."

VICTORIA (CP) — Ottawa should follow the British Columbia government's action in averting a Black Ball ferry strike and settle the Canadian Pacific Steamship tie-up, Premier Bennett says. His opinion was echoed by Arnold Webb, secretary-manager of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

1,000 Russians Demonstrate At U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — A crowd of more than 1,000 Russians, some angrily shaking their fists and shouting the Russian equivalent of "dirty S.O.B.," demonstrated today at the United States Embassy.

About 150 Soviet policemen kept the noisy crowd under control and no rocks or ink bottles were thrown.

The embassy had prepared for retaliation against demonstration by Hungarian refugees last week end at the Soviet United Nations offices in New York. Embassy windows were boarded, the first floor had been evacuated and Russian employees had been given the day off.

Ask 40-Hour Week For Smaller Offices

British Columbia postmen are sounding the income bell twice on the federal government.

Postmasters meeting in convention here wound up their three-day meeting today with calls for more pay for all Canadian postal employees and revision of pension rules.

The postmasters also passed a motion asking that heads of small revenue post offices (such as Winfield and Rutland) be permitted to work a 40-hour week instead of the present 44-hour week, and that their rate of pay be not less than the provincial minimum hourly rate.

The annual parley of the B.C. branch of the Canadian Postmasters Association broke up shortly before noon.

Decision where to hold the next convention was left to the executive, though an invitation had been received from Qualicum Beach.

It is possible the 1959 convention will be held in the United States, close to the border.

Among resolutions adopted and which will be presented to the national convention of the CPA for consideration was one calling on a substantial increase in salaries for all postal employees.

Another urged that due to the fact that cancelling machines represent a considerable saving of man hours, that the minimum requirement for cancelling machines be reduced from 2,000 to 1,500 items daily.

The convention urged pensions be based on the average of the best five years of service and that retirement be allowed after 35 years of service with the postal department.

The delegates urged consideration be given to granting leave to semi-staff and revenue postmasters to attend conventions and that semi-staff post offices (where only the postmaster is a civil servant) be reclassified the same as staff post offices (where all employees are civil servants).

RESIDENTIAL CLAUSE — Also approved were resolutions calling for postal employees being granted the same privilege of leave, on a pro-rata basis, now enjoyed by other part-time employees of the federal government and that a restrictive residential clause be removed completely when bidding on vacancies that occur, so that the best possible applicant may be secured.

Other resolutions called for: support for the pay of installing outside lock boxes so that customers may get their mail 24 hours a day.

Extending use of the stamp vending machines to all offices. Acceptance of registered articles using scotch tape.

Payment of mileage to postmasters in staff offices who use their cars on postal business within the city limits.

Extension Sought In Princess' Stay

PENTICTON (CP) — Civic officials have decided to seek an extension in Princess Margaret's 20-minute stopover here July 18 so she can drive past a new school being named in her honor.

Present plans call for a brief drive around the airport and a portion of Skaha Lake during her aircraft's stop en route to Kelowna.

LATE FLASHES

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Heavy firing broke out in Lebanon late today shortly after the government announced it had asked for an armed United Nations emergency force to seal off the frontier.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western diplomats expressed the belief today Lebanon's request for a special United Nations military force will result in an emergency session of the 81-power General Assembly.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters) — Emergency regulations which were brought into force throughout Ceylon May 27 have been extended for another month.

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther today sought to crush a wildcat strike by a small group of United Auto Workers at a Chrysler Corporation missile plant. He called officers of Local 1245 before the executive board to show cause why an administrator should not be placed over the local.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eighty of B.C.'s best junior golfers will tee off Friday in the annual provincial championship at the Vancouver Golf Club.

WORTHING, Eng. (Reuters) — A senior British electronics technician today was ordered to stand trial on charges of giving secret information to a Czech diplomat and receiving £500 for his services. The technician, 45-year-old Bryan F. Linney, pleaded not guilty.

OTTAWA (CP) — Spiralling hospital costs may boost the cost of the national insurance scheme well beyond the original estimate, the Senate health committee was told today. Dr. J. W. Willard, estimated that if all provinces participated in a "share" of federal costs would be $215,000,000 for a full year.

KELOWNA MEMORIAL ARBOR NEARS COMPLETION

Why Be Interested In Bridge That Is 200 Miles Away?

This newspaper on many occasions has endeavored to make the point that the Okanagan Lake bridge is not a "Kelowna" or indeed, an "Okanagan" bridge, but is a bridge to provide better service for highway traffic throughout the whole interior of the province; it is an integral and very important part of the whole provincial highway system.

This viewpoint is supported by a recent editorial in the Wenatchee Daily World, which points out that the proposed bridge across the Columbia at Biggs is of very vital concern to Wenatchee although it is 200 miles away.

The World's comments are as applicable to the Okanagan Lake bridge as they are to the Biggs bridge. Any improvement in transportation facilities affects, not only the immediate area, but the people within the radius of hundreds of miles.

The Wenatchee paper said in part: "Why all this hullabaloo over the Biggs Bridge?"

"What's it to us if someone builds a bridge over the Columbia River 200 miles south of here?"

"The answer, as tourist promoters and fruit shippers will tell you, is, 'plenty.' "North Central Washington has a definite financial stake in getting that bridge built. It is a major part of U.S. 97—the highway that runs from Weed, California to Dawson Creek, B.C. and extends even up into Alaska.

"Today when you come to the Columbia River while travelling that road, you have to either ferry at Maryhill, or drive downstream to The Dalles to cross on a toll bridge and then go back upstream on the other side.

"That costs even us stay-at-homes money. If a bridge replaced those time-wasting alternatives more tourists would spend money in our stores.

"Already traffic on that road has increased from 172,000 to 462,000 in just 10 years. Those figures are from traffic counts at the B.C. border.

"U.S. 97 is one of the fastest-growing highways in the West. Another water barrier—Lake Okanagan—is being bridged at Kelowna this summer. By 1960 the road will be virtually completed all the way north to its juncture with the Alaska Highway at Dawson Creek. A 1,000-car caravan will travel the road to mark its completion that year.

"It's almost an obligation to remove the bottleneck at Biggs.

"The value of such a bridge to the apple industry was stressed at the Army Engineer hearing at Maryhill earlier this week.

"The Wenatchee Valley Traffic Association, which represents firms that ship about 85 per cent of North Central Washington's fruit, presented a statement for the bridge.

"The traffic association said that 25 per cent of this area's fruit crop goes by motor freight. Over half of that freight goes to California and Oregon, the statement said.

"The fact that the ferry operates only in the daytime forces many apple carriers to take the longer path. It all adds to the cost of apples, and helps injure the grower's market.

"Plans for the bridge and for financing it have been ready for some time. Then why hasn't it been built? Financing has depended on each state building its own approaches. The feasibility report indicated that toll revenue would raise enough money to build the bridge only. Washington has indicated willingness to build north approaches. Oregon has been dragging its feet on the south.

"The Army Engineer statement that it would probably recommend that the bridge as proposed be licensed indicates that if Oregon agrees to the approach financing, the bridge could be underway next year.

"Although the Biggs bridge is 200 miles from this area, it is still of vital interest right here. It is the crossroad of two major highways (one macadam, one water) that pass our door."

TRYING TO BEAT HIM AT HIS OWN GAME

SCENE IN PASSING

BY "WAYFARER"

Little information has as yet been released in connection with the actual details of the bridge opening ceremony, and no-one knows how many persons will be admitted to the event. Since it is evident that relatively speaking only a handful of spectators can be accommodated on the bridge itself, or even near it—we cannot help wondering if the bridge approach will be lined with thousands of people. Should this be the case there will be complete demolition of much of the finishing work now being done in that area.

It would seem highly desirable for the route of approach and departure of Her Royal Highness to be known in advance in order that the crowds could be spread out over much of the entire distance. Only in this manner will everyone, young and old, be able to get at least a fleeting glimpse of our Royal visitor.

A tip to our wayfaring bonnet to the "good citizen" who voluntarily takes care of the tiny park at the intersection of Pandosy Street and Boyce Crescent. What was an uncarved corner is now a little arboreal gem, thanks to his constant care and attention.

chiller-dillers. For authority he quotes a psychiatrist who contends these pictures constitute "self administered psychiatric therapy." Translated from the idiom this seems to mean that the kids need something to dispel childhood fears of ghosts, witches and such. Far be it from us to question medical authority, but as for "Variety"—it's axe is showing!

After the continuous vocal and printed expressions of exasperation, jealousy and plain bad temper emanating from Vancouver on the subject of the Royal visit, the Hon. Phil Cagliardi's Kamloops quote was a refreshing contrast. When someone complained because Princess Margaret would be in Kamloops for only a very short period, the Hon. Phil said "She desires to rest! Kamloops is too lively for that! Kelowna is much more restful!" It was a nimbly put on the back for his constituents, combined with a good-natured gibe at Kelowna. It didn't annoy anyone or leave any hard feelings. It did the Hon. Phil credit!

So This Is What We Wanted!

We see by the paper that the mercury touched 96 on Sunday. Well we did not need a newspaper to tell us that. It was self-evident.

Nor do we need a newspaper or a thermometer to tell us that this Monday afternoon is just as hot.

Here we sit trying to think up some bright remarks on pertinent subjects and the only thoughts which come into our mind is how nice it would be to be in the lake or under a shower.

Time drags slowly while the perspiration drips fast.

Our shirt sticks to our back.

Our glasses need cleaning every few minutes.

Our hands are hot and sticky.

Our pipe, even, seems to burn hot.

There's no movement of air; it seems heavy, solid.

Solid-looking heat waves are rising from the roofs of building down the street.

Beyond, the tops of trees in someone's backyard are moving gently, suggesting some slight breeze. But then, we are not in the top of trees down the street.

Water drops off the end of our editorial nose to fall on the copy paper, making a dark blotch which slowly grows as the moisture is absorbed.

We find we are stuck to the leather seat of our chair.

So this is what we were looking forward to four or five months ago!

Too much of anything can be too much. Like liquor. Like food. Like sugar. Like...

Nice as the Okanagan summer is and as much as we love it, there can be even too much of that, especially when it comes all at once...

Four or five months ago when we were wishing for this, we never gave one thought to the difficulty of concentrating on editorials when the thermometer is hovering around 96.

Right now we know it is easier to write in colder weather.

In hot weather, such as this, one apparently just can't write at all.

Government Restores Home Of Leacock

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP) — If the ghost of Stephen Leacock ever returns to sip buttered rum before a fireplace in a sprawling home on Old Brewery Bay it won't find much change.

The 16-room stucco house and 32-acre grounds near here were largely neglected after the famous humorist and economist scribbled his last lines in 1944.

But now, with federal government aid and the continuous efforts of his admirers in Orillia (the whimsical Mariposa of his Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town) the home has been restored, and Leacock's books and papers have been put in order.

NATIONAL SITE

On July 5, Canada's minister of northern affairs and natural resources, Alvin Hamilton, will open the Stephen Leacock Memorial Home as a national historic site.

It is to be preserved, as closely as possible, as it was when the gentle satirist lived and wrote there when he wasn't lecturing at Montreal's McGill University.

Ike, Dulles Re-Appraise U.S.-Soviet Relations

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles have started a new appraisal of U.S.-Soviet relations. They seek to determine whether current negotiations over such issues as a summit conference offer any real hope of producing agreements.

Both appear to be convinced that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is following much tougher policies than before toward the rest of the world, but they are not sure why.

State department experts are looking for an answer, but admittedly do not yet have all the necessary facts. For example, they are not sure why Soviet ambassadors from the United States, Britain and France were called back to Moscow this week for urgent consultation.

One speculation going the rounds here is that Khrushchev may be planning some new manoeuvre in foreign affairs, possibly about a summit conference or Soviet trade with the West. Eisenhower told a press conference Wednesday he is unable to say whether it would be worth while to continue his exchange of letters with Khrushchev in the light of such incidents as the execution of former premier Imre Nagy of Hungary.

He said that the execution of Nagy, who was premier at the time of the Hungarian revolt in late 1956, showed that the Soviets are following "policies of terror and intimidation... to bring about complete subservience to their will."

The situation now being studied has been building up for some time.

The Soviet high command in recent weeks has taken a series of actions bound to cost Russia good will and prestige, but it appears not to be bothered by this loss.

About two months ago Soviet officials showed reluctance to enter into diplomatic negotiations over arrangements for a summit conference. This created a widespread impression that Khrushchev was backing away from such a meeting. Later Soviet propagandists had he himself sought to wipe out this impression.

But Khrushchev's action in making public earlier this week various secret proposals put forth in the diplomatic negotiations was interpreted here and abroad as virtually wrecking the talks.

Such incidents and the execution of Nagy add up to what U.S. officials consider to be a tough Soviet line.

Pavement Proposals Pondered

A Victoria firm of consulting engineers has written city council with a proposal for "making an engineering investigation and report on the bituminous paving of the city streets."

This will "provide the city with information that will enable the works superintendent to plan his maintenance from year to year and will provide recommended maintenance procedures," Willis and Cunliffe Engineering Ltd. wrote. "It will also provide a design for base course and pavement, that, if applied, would substantially reduce the repairs required in the future," the company added.

Fees for the work would not be in excess of $2,700, and would include "payment of all fees, expenses, drilling costs, field and laboratory testing and reports."

Ald. Jack Treadgold, as head of the public works department, was asked to study the letter and report back to council.

NEEDING REPAIR

The consulting engineers letter read:

"Our investigation would include a survey of the existing pavements to locate and record failed areas needing immediate repair; the determination by test holes of pavement thicknesses and base course thicknesses; the extraction of samples from the subsoil for laboratory tests; field tests to determine the strength of the subsoil in situ; location of the water table and other information required for base course and pavement design; discussions with the works superintendent so that any recommended maintenance program will be coordinated with his future drainage and works program.

"From such an investigation, we will prepare a comprehensive report which will include a map showing the paved streets, with the portions needing repair or maintenance marked; a verbal description of the existing pavements; a discussion of the failed areas, with recommendations for repair and an estimate of the quantities involved; a street by street description of the pavements with recommendations for their maintenance; the type of treatment required and when it should be done; a recommended design for base courses and pavements to suit the general conditions in Kelowna."

SHOOT FIRST, ASK QUESTIONS LATER

City fathers are determined to make sure that Princess Margaret's stay in official residence here July 18-22 will be memorable, peaceful and safe.

She will not even experience the sensation of being stung by a mosquito, if the council can help it.

Instructions are being issued to the city mosquito control man to spray around the Okanagan Mission lakeshore home of J. Bruce Smith, which will be government house while the princess is here.

Who will pay for it has not been determined. O. Curtis, the mosquito controller, has been told to shoot first and the questions will be asked later.

Vernon Youth Prep School's Best Student

VERNON—The Fidelity Shield, top trophy awarded annually by Vernon Preparatory School to its best all-round student, was won this year by Gerald Stanier of Vernon. It was presented Saturday at the school's closing exercises.

The Mackie Memorial Award went to Stuart McDermid, Le Pas, Man.

Good sportsmanship trophies went to: (senior) Bill Mackie, Lone Butte, B.C.; (junior) John Frost of Vancouver.

General progress prizes went to Philip Shuckburgh, Victoria; David McLaughlin, Kelowna; and Peter Sherwood, Vancouver.

Alumni and their families, parents of students at the "Prep" school, Vancouver governors and their wives, and friends, made the trip to Vernon at the weekend to attend the closing exercises, highlight of which was Dean Neville V. Scarf's dedication of the new $150,000 main building, replacing the one destroyed by fire last November.

The boys now have dispersed to their homes. The school will reopen Sept. 10, with approximately 65 boys to be enrolled. Charles W. Twite is headmaster.

Lake Simcoe, north of Toronto, was discovered by Champlain in 1615 and later named after Governor Simcoe.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT Shooting Taboo But Roamers Welcomed

Mayor Parkinson, speaking on behalf of city council at the regular city council meeting Monday night, took issue with the Daily Courier over Monday's editorial.

"The claims made in the editorial are wrong," the mayor maintained.

Girl Run Over By Auto But No Fractures

Condition of a six-year-old girl was said to be "satisfactory" this morning but full extent of injuries received when struck by an auto Tuesday afternoon still are undetermined.

In hospital suffering from abrasions, lacerations, and internal injuries, is Susan Wendy Macklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Macklin, 2414 Taylor Crescent. Apparently there were no fractures, even though one wheel of the passenger car passed over her thigh.

She was crossing Pandosy at Raymer on her way home from the Raymer Ave. school when she was struck. Driver of the auto, according to RCMP who are investigating the accident, was Douglas A. Middlemass, R.R. 4.

maintained." because we don't want to close up Knox Mountain. We want to encourage the use of it."

He said council never thought of barring use of the mountain, except that consideration now is being given to putting a stop to using rifles on the mountain.

"We would not have developed Knox Mountain as we have if we wanted to keep the public out," he said.

POST PROPERTY

The editorial frowned on the use of firearms on the mountain but pressed for retention of the "background playground to serve its only useful purpose—a playground for the kids and a hiking place for the adults."

Council proposes to declare the city's property atop the mountain (over 300 acres) as park area and posting no shooting signs. S. M. Simpson Ltd., which owns a large parcel, and other owners of property on the mountain are being asked to co-operate with posting of no shooting and no trespassing signs.

In connection with Knox Mountain, S. M. Simpson Ltd. wrote city council Monday requesting support to have an aerial map made of the mountain. The company had a bid of $385 to do the job, which would cover an area of over 700 acres.

On a proportionate basis, the city's charges would come to $280. Four others, including Simpson's would pay the rest of the costs.

The company, which requested an early decision "so as to allow the area to be flown jointly with other work we are currently undertaking," will be advised that the city will go for the $280 payment if the rest of the property-owners will pay their apportionment.

Closing Hours For Business Firms Get Final Approval Of City Council

Four bylaws affecting closing hours of businesses in the city were given final reading Monday night.

Bylaw 1988 provides for the closing of barber shops between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 a.m. daily except Wednesday, when the shops remain closed all day.

Bylaw 1984 provides for retail stores to close not later than 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and not later than 12 noon on Wednesday, except that during July and August, retail stores may remain open to 6 p.m. Wednesdays. Stores may remain open Friday until 9 p.m. all year long.

EXEMPTIONS

Bylaw 1985 exempts the following classifications from the provisions of the bylaw quoted above, setting out retail shop closing hours:

Bakeries, drug stores, and stands within a shop for the sale of fresh fruits, and fresh vegetables, soft drinks, dairy products, cut flowers, florist products and confectionery.

Bylaw 1986 extends the closing hours of automotive service stations and automotive service garages to 7 p.m. from October 1 to April, inclusive, and to 9 p.m. from May to September, inclusive.

SECOND CHANCE TO GET IN ON ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION CLASS

Keen interest in learning artificial respiration was apparent in the large crowd that came out Monday night to take advantage of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade's offer to show how.

Approximately half of the 150 persons who jammed the fire hall Monday were women, too.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman said later the response was so good that another class will be held next Monday, at 7:30 p.m., also at the fire hall.

Anyone is welcome to attend—even those who have been instructed before. "A refresher course will never hurt anyone," said the fire chief significantly.

Women should wear slacks, however.

Elderly Resident Dies In City Park; Heat Wave Hitting Marginal Cases

A long-time Kelowna and district resident collapsed and died in The City Park Monday.

Alexander "Sandy" Stewart, 73, Mayfair Apartments, was pronounced dead by a physician called to the park. He and his wife observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary last May 28.

Mr. Stewart's death in the park recalled a similar incident when another well-known Kelowna man—William S. King—succumbed suddenly August 28, 1950, while watching a softball game in the park, with which he had been so intimately connected.

Death of Mr. Stewart was blamed on a heart seizure—as was Mr. King's death.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

A medical authority said that the current heat wave has aggravated illnesses of several elderly people and many have been taken to or admitted to hospital within the past two weeks. They are described as "marginal cases" that otherwise might have been all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were married at Clrief, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1912, moving to the Kelowna district 42 years ago.

Besides his wife, Agnes, he leaves four daughters, Mrs. W. (Beth) Spencer, Rutland; Mrs. S. D. (Mary) Price, East Kelowna; Mrs. E. (Ann) Conn, Edmonton, and Mrs. L. (Agnes) Larson, Kelowna; three sons, Jack, East Kelowna; Alex, Scotland, and Muir in Vancouver; 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. A sister, Miss Ann Stewart, resides in Scotland.

Funeral service will be held Thursday at the Kelowna Funeral Directors' chapel, at 2:30 p.m., with Rev. R. S. Leitch of First United Church officiating. Burial will be at the Kelowna cemetery.

Two Clinics Today For Polio Shots

Without wishing to become alarmists, medical authorities feel it is their duty to remind the adults in the Kelowna area from Peachland to Oyma that anyone up to the age of 50 can contract polio, and often it is fatal.

A 35-year-old Westbank man already has died from polio within the past month.

The doctors are urging all between the ages of 18 and 50 to take advantage of today's free clinics, so that they can start on the way to immunization against polio. Today's clinics are from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Community Health Centre.

Because the Salk polio vaccine does not become fully effective until three doses are administered over an eight-month period, another clinic will be held July 9 for the second "shot in the arm."

The third will be held at a time to be announced later—in the early or middle part of February, 1955.

All those getting the polio vaccine will be given a card to keep a record of the immunization progress.

Rutland Scouts Get Recruits During Investiture Ceremony

RUTLAND—The Rutland Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs held a joint meeting in the high school gymnasium Monday evening. The occasion was the "going-up" of a number of Cubs into the Scout troop.

District Commissioner Harold Henderson and District Cubmaster Harold Willett both were in attendance, and spoke briefly to the boys.

The commissioner spoke on the matter of "courtesy," one of the Scout laws, and also on the wearing of full uniform by Scouts when attending Scout parades. He also referred to plans for the Scouts and Cubs to welcome Princess Margaret when she visits Kelowna, and touched also on the subject of "loyalty," another Scout law, which he said, included not only loyalty to the Queen, but loyalty to the community and to organizations to which the individual belonged.

District Cubmaster Willett complimented Cubmaster Jock Davidson on the fine work he is doing with the Cub pack, and expressed the belief that the Cubs now going up into the troop would be a "credit" to the Troop, as they had been to the pack.

THESE GO UP

The following Cubs were welcomed into the Troop by Scoutmaster Bert Chichester—Ricky Whittaker, Alan Yamaoka, Dale Dana, Gary Curtis, Brian Alexander, Herman Kornze, Chris Wood, David Bell, Ricky Preston, Henry Wowk.

The new recruits were assigned to the various patrols, and were welcomed by the patrol leaders. The Scouts then marched into their various patrol corners, and took up some tenderfoot work, and each of the newcomers was given a folder containing details of the tenderfoot tests.

While the Scouts were in corners the Wolf Cubs took the centre of the floor and held relays and games, while the commissioner and district cubmaster went around and visited the Scouts.

This was followed by the investiture of two Tenderfoot Scouts—R. Whittaker and Grant Wood—by Scoutmaster Chichester. The two boys were thereby admitted into the world-wide Brotherhood of Scouting as full fledged Scouts.

After flag lowering and dismissal, the Scouts and Cubs were shown a number of interesting colored slides, taken on camps and hikes by Assistant Scoutmaster Cliff Schell. Refreshments were served at the close, to wind up an enjoyable evening.

1-Hour Parking Area Extended

Extension of the one-hour parking area has gone into effect.

Among portions of streets now affected by the enlarged restricted parking area are west side of Mill St. from Bernard to Queensway; north side of Leon from Water to Pandosy; south side of Leon from Water to Ellis and west side of Ellis from Queensway to Doyle.

Vernon Cadets Leave Soon For Training Camps

VERNON—Eight weeks in various phases of naval training is in store for six members of Vernon's Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Kalamalka." The boys will leave about June 30.

Leading Cadet Bill Clendenning will take a leadership course at HMCS "Naden," at Esquimalt.

Leading Cadet Richard Arpaci and Kenneth Kilborn will go to HMCS "Cornwallis" in Nova Scotia to take a physical and recreational training course.

Active Cadets Bill Sagert, Gerry Walker and Brian Davis will all take a bandsman's course at HMCS "Quadrant" at Comox. Approximately 15 other boys on the strength of the "Kalamalka" corps will go to HMCS "Quadrant" at Comox for two weeks later in the summer.

Cherry Harvest Away In Central Valley Orchards

VERNON—Department of agriculture advised that cherry picking in the Oyma-Winfield and Okanagan Centre areas should start the middle of this week.

The first of the Bing and Van varieties will be picked for shipment outside the Okanagan. A good crop of cherries is in prospect this season—equal, or better than that enjoyed last year.

Cherries now available in local stores come from the south end of the valley.

NEW STENOGRAPHER

City council Monday night approved the appointment of Miss Judith May Snowsall as stenographer and receptionist at $154 monthly for a probationary period of three months, effective June 18.

City Approves Sale Of Industrial Lots At Tendered Price

Offer of building contractor J. W. Scott to purchase two lots in the 700 block Crowley Ave., at $200 each was accepted by city council Monday night. Reaffirmation will be made by bylaw.

Mr. Scott several weeks ago tendered $400 for the two lots, indicating he would use them for a construction warehouse.

BIRDS PROTECTED

The federal Migratory Birds Convention Act, protects migratory birds, in agreement with a treaty with the United States.

Rezoning Plans Are Approved

First three readings to Bylaw 1991, which will rezone lots in two different sections of the city, were given by city council Monday night.

A lot at 824 Bernard Ave., where it is proposed to renovate existing facilities into a private hospital, has been rezoned from residential to multiple dwelling.

Two lots on St. Paul, immediately south of the Okanagan Telephone Co. office building, have been rezoned from residential to light industry so that the telephone company can build additional facilities, which construction is under way already.

Across the street lots owned by West Kootenay Power and Light Co. to store power poles, and by the city of Kelowna for its electrical workshop, also will be rezoned from residential to light industry. These two lots also are on St. Paul St.

When you ask for a loan at the B of M...

you do not ask a FAVOUR

When the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour... she is buying goods for which she will pay cash... purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries... the banker deals in credit. And, as the making of loans is the principal way by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods... that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit to you and to his institution.

PAT COBURN

V's Ink Coach, Seek Revival

The Pentition V's today announced the signing of a new manager-coach-player to mold their 1957-58 hockey club into an "interesting contender."

Their acquisition of classy defenceman Pat Coburn will prove to be a bit of a blow to the Kelowna Packers, since the 31-year-old ex pro was a mainstay of the Packers' rearguard last season.

"I feel that they made me a very good offer," said "Paddy" today, "and it will prove to be a challenge to me as a player and coach." His contract is for a two-year period.

HAVE WOODED

The V's have been wooing the defenceman for some time, since he played three games with them three years ago, but was forced to go back to Seattle in the WHL or be suspended. Two years ago they made him an offer, but he wasn't ready to accept then, he said.

This time they have shown him concrete evidence that the executive, under president Tony Biola, are ready, willing and able to seek out a team that will give the fans a good shake for their money.

Coburn will leave the Orchard City for Pentition in August, he said, and will take a swing through the prairies seeking talent.

"I have two or three men in mind right now," he said, today. "We will be keeping some of last year's squad, but a fairly extensive re-building job will be necessary."

Coburn, who joined the Packers last year from the Trail Smoke Eaters, has a long and illustrious minor pro record, and was considered to be one of the best in the OSHL last year. He will leave a big hole for coach Jack O'Reilly to fill on the Packers' rearguard.

Foytack, Tigers In Step, Move To Heels Of Kansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Tigers backed him up with a four-run fifth inning after Gail staked him to a second-inning Harris' fifth home run had lead, Rookie Milt Pappas (4-2) was the loser.

The White Sox got three scoreless innings from Ebbly Wynn, then the Yankees bopped him for five runs in the fourth, all on homers, Mickey Mantle hit his 13th, Jerry Lumpe picked a two-on spot for his first in the majors, and Norm Siebern wrapped it up with his third of the year. Bob Turley, who had lost two in a row, became the first to win within sight of second in the American League standings, but it was Foytack who was charged with two of those three defeats.

Foytack Tuesday night junked a three-game losing string with a five-hit shutout that beat Baltimore 3-0. It was his first victory and complete game in four tries since May 31—when he beat Chicago White Sox 3-0 with a six-hitter.

FOUR-RUN INNING

While the Tigers moved within a half-game of second place, they remained 9½ games back of first place New York as the Yankees ran up a 6-2 victory over the White Sox.

The As and Washington played a 2-2 tie held to eight innings by rain at Kansas City, Boston beat Cleveland 4-3.

ADMISSION 50¢

Orioles Nine To Be Intact

Coach Hank Tostenson is going to go along with his Orioles' regular line-up for the Dominion Day Tournament, to be staged in Kelowna's Elks' Stadium June 29-30, July 1.

"I feel that the club will be as strong as any of the competition I know of right now," he said today. "They have come out of their hitting slump, and are raring to go."

Just how raring to go they are will be evident tonight, when they host the Summerland Macs in the first twilight bill of this season in Elks' Stadium, at 6:30. The Macs and Orioles will clash again Sunday in the second game of the $2,000 tourney.

The Orioles will probably be the only club to go into the tourney with their regular lineup, with the exception of the Fairchild Air Force base, who number several ex-pros in their lineup.

The Vernon Clippers, who meet Fairchild in the first game of the tournament, at 1:30 on Sunday, will be strengthened with some prairie ball players, imported for the tourney.

Oliver OBC's the defending champions and holders of the Bennett Trophy, will also have a bolstered roster, as they did last year. The first prize money of $1,000, double last year's booty, is an added attraction this year.

The coach of the Almira, Wash. club was rather perturbed with himself last year for underestimating the calibre of ball played up here, but has promised to do differently this year, bringing up a club garnered from several different teams in the Washington loop where they play.

RELY ON CALIBRE

Port Moody and Maillardville will probably not do very much strengthening, relying on their calibre to carry them through, and should prove to be plenty tough to get around.

The Summerland Macs will probably be strengthening also, and tonight's game in Elks' Stadium may be the criterion of how far they will have to go.

Coach Tostenson and his crew are out to do better than the runners-up spot they forged for themselves last year in their annual tourney, but are making no promises yet.

"The boys were in a batting slump for four or five games," coach Tostenson said, "but they started hitting again, and I have no doubt they are going to be 'up' for this test. We should see some wonderful ball in the three days, and that is our primary reason for hosting the tournament, which means a lot of hard work to everyone connected with the ball club."

The Orioles are sneaking up on the league-leading Okonots again, after their batting slump dropped them out of top spot, a position they had held for more than a season.

They have won the last three times out, and a win tonight against Summerland will put them just one game behind Okies, and one game in hand.

Aces Continue Win Streak, Down Rovettes In Hit-Fest

The Super-Valu Aces continued on two walks, two hits and an error in their victory march in the South.

Okanagan Women's Softball League last night by beating the Rutland Rovettes, 13-8, in Rutland.

Paced by the home-run clout of captain Anita Welder and a double by pitcher Olive Pope, the Aces tagged Rutland's Dolly Bach for nine hits.

Centre fielder Loretta Manarin homered for the Rovettes and left fielder Phyllis Ramsey slammed out a triple in the losing cause.

STARTED STRONGLY

The Aces started out strongly, on a single, a walk and Stewart's homer, to count 3-0 in the first frame.

The defending city champs added another in the second, as Pope doubled and was driven in by Welder.

In the third inning the Aces went wild, batting right through the order and adding five runs.

The Aces added three more on three walks and an error in the fourth, before the Rovettes replied with three on two errors and a fielder's choice.

The Aces added one more in the top of the fifth, and the Rovettes tried to close the gap, an error, a triple and a homer adding three runs to bring the score to 13-5.

Both clubs were scoreless in the sixth, and the Aces blanked in the top of the seventh.

The Rovettes came back with a three-run rally as Pope's control wavered and she walked the first three to bat, gave up a hit, and third base committed an error, but the veteran pitcher tightened up and filed one, then struck the next to win the ball game.

Aces score: 315 310 0-13 9 5
Rovettes 000 230 3-8 5 3

Giants, Mounties Play Turnabout

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

The Phoenix Giants surged into the Pacific Coast League lead last night as rain washed away the chaff half of the loop schedule.

The Giants mowed down Spokane 12-9 while the third-place San Diego Padres tacked a 3-2 defeat on the Vancouver Mounties, who staggered from first down to second, a game behind the Giants.

Rain washed out Sacramento at Seattle and Salt Lake City at Portland.

The Phoenix-Spokane donnybrook was a homer-infested affair from start to finish. Andre Rodgers got three circuit clouts for the Giants and five other home runs cleared the fence before the smoke drifted away. Rodgers also got a single in a perfect four-for-four night at the plate.

Spokane's Bob Jenkins got a homer, a triple and a double in five trips, driving in seven of the losers' nine runs. The Giants splurged for seven runs in the first inning, frittered the lead away and then came back to win with two runs in the seventh and eight in the sixth and eighth, all on homers.

Bill Werle notched his seventh victory against only four defeats in shacking Vancouver on five hits while his San Diego teammates were getting seven safe-

Gals Sought For Rhythm Swimming

The first meeting of the Kelowna rhythmic swimming group will meet on Sunday, June 29 at 7:00 p.m. in the Aquatic, with the first practice scheduled for Tuesday, July 2, at 10:00 a.m.

This year's centennial show will require a few more swimmers, and will give the 60-odd girls more numbers to swim in. The Aqua Rhythms will be taking part in the five nightly shows, on Aug. 12-16, incl.

The preliminary meeting, on Sunday, will be for the purpose of enrolling the girls, and water ballet instructor, Joan McKinley, will give instructions on the procedure of the training period.

Swimming practices will be on a seven-day per week basis, with the younger girls working out in the morning, from 10-11:30, and the working girls practicing from 6:30-7:30.

The Red Cross swimming instructors' school, with teaching and lifesaving on the agenda, will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, June 28, with enrolments to take place at the Aquatic prior to this.

An enrolment of 70-100 is standard for these valuable classes, which fit the graduate for lifesaving duties in any R.C. pool.

For information on the classes, either rhythmic or instructors, call Miss McKinley at the Aquatic 3336.

Boating Week A "Must" In Water-Happy City

By GEORGE INGLIS
(Courier Sports Editor)

"National Boating Week" could almost be tailor-made for Kelowna, where one-half the populace are boat owners, and the other half wish they were.

This national attempt to take some of the danger out of boating by a concentrated educational program is far more poignantly received here, where every third family head is also a skipper, than it would be in Dry-Bone Junction on the boat-shy prairies. Here, almost every individual is concerned with boating safety, whether as a swimmer, water-skier, boat jockey or grateful passenger.

When the lake becomes streaked with power boat wash, dappled with bobbing heads and ruffled with water skiers, it's time for everyone to be on their toes and abide by the rules of the road for small boats.

The tragedies of carelessness are all around us—jamming the front pages of newspapers after every long weekend—leaving behind as many broken homes and shattered hearts as the average hurricane. The brutal part of it is that these casualties all occur in the name of pleasure.

The pleasure is taken out of a pleasure boat when it is in the hands of a thoughtless or incompetent person—therefore the training program. The aim of National Boating Week is to educate the individual, then let his conscience be his guide. Let's have a look at some of their lessons:

HANDLE WITH CARE

1) ALL BOATS MUST CARRY LIGHTS ON THE WATER AFTER DARK. This includes rowboats, sailboats and canoes, as well as power boats. The boat owner should enquire of their local yacht club as to the type of lights required on their particular craft. A sensible rule, although it means the canoeist must pull into shore before engaging in amorous pursuits.

2) TWO PEOPLE IN TOW BOAT FOR WATER SKIING. This is one rule which is frequently violated here, but can easily result in avoidable accidents, since one person is incapable of driving and managing the skier at the same time. In addition, beginners should wear life-belts. Also, JOIN THE ORCHARD CITY WATER SKI CLUB.

3) KNOW RULES OF THE ROAD, CARRY PROPER SAFETY EQUIPMENT. Rules of the road are just as vital in small boats as they are in ocean-going vessels, since operators of boats meeting or passing have complete confidence in each other if they are abiding by the rules. Paddles, life jackets, lights, and bailing pumps are all pieces of equipment without which no small boat should take to the water.

4) TAKE IT EASY! This applies in particular to the fortunate owners of high powered craft. The tendency of green hands at the sport of boating is to pour the coal to her at the wrong moment, unmindful of the fact that a boat can't stop on a dime. Sailboats can be dangerous too if riding with the wind into a group of swimmers.

5) DON'T OVERPOWER YOUR BOAT, AND KNOW THE POWER OF YOUR BOAT. These cautions are for the prospective boat owner in particular. Over powering a boat is an expensive and dangerous bit of foolishness, almost as fatal as overloading a boat. Knowing the power of your boat is a "must," since you can make an awful mess of yourself and a jetty if you're not aware of the power under your throttle.

6) WATCH THE WEATHER. Some boat owners might be inclined to scoff at the idea of anyone venturing out when the weather threatens, but it's all part of not knowing. The novice may try to make that last little dash to the home port, even though the odds are stacked against him, if he doesn't fully appreciate the danger. It doesn't pay.

PLAIN HOSS SENSE

The biggest enemy to the small boat operator is nonsense, the most powerful ally is horse sense.

Everyone knows that a small boat is an easy vessel to tip—therefore confine your tangos to the shore. Make all movements slowly and carefully in a boat, and you'll never be responsible for capsizing one.

Don't get power-mad. Remember, that sharp hull of your power boat can cleave a head just as easily as it cleaves the water. Stay away from swimmers, refrain from being a "water-borne cowboy," and don't be afraid to throttle down when the occasion calls for it.

Above all, remember, "PLAY SAFE FOR MORE FUN AFLOAT."

Spokane Group Try Hard To Enter New WIHL Team

SPOKANE (AP)—The picture became a bit clearer Tuesday night concerning a group here trying to form a senior amateur hockey team to compete with the professional Spokane Flyers.

The Spokesman—Review reported at least two of the ten member organization are former owners of the Flyers, "who had withdrawn support from the team in 1954, after voting to fold up the Flyers."

The newspaper identified the two as Clarence Tubbs, owner of an electrical business, and Dr. Frank Jurdy, dental surgeon. It said they met with coliseum advisory committee and city council Tuesday.

It was reported in Trail Sunday that a group of businessmen were planning to take over the Western International League franchise left open when the Flyers moved into the professional ranks. WIHL president Don Adams confirmed the report Tuesday.

Phillies Ink Twin Big Bonus Babies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies said Tuesday they have signed twins Richard and Robert Haines, 18-year-old Montclair, N.J., high school Negro athletes, for a huge but undisclosed bonus.

The twins are both six-foot, 200-pound right-handed outfielders. They will be sent to the Johnston City, Tenn., rookie farm in the Class-D Appalachian League.

TUESDAY'S STARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pitching: Paul Foytack, Tigers—Ended losing slump at three with his first complete game, since May 31, blanking Baltimore 5-0 on five hits.

Hitting: Duke Snider, Gil Hodges, Dodgers—drove in 11 runs between them in pair of extra-inning victories over the Redlegs. Hodges drove in five collecting the tie-breaking pair with a home run in a three-run 10th that won the opener 13-10. Both hit homers for an early lead in the second game and then drove in three between them in a five-run, 11th inning that won it 7-2.

SITE OF INTERIOR TOURNAMENT

These lovely greens in Kelowna's City Park will be the scene of plenty of action this weekend, as 120 bowlers from many interior B.C. points meet for the Interior Lawn Bowling Championships, July 1-4. The four-day tournament will see rink, doubles, triples, and individual play, with trophies and prizes offered in the ten events. The local club will be in charge of all arrangements, under the chairmanship of W. B. Hughes-Games. Above, some of the players are seen taking a workout on a pleasant evening.

U.S. Sports Groups Free From Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sports officials today hailed the House of Representatives vote to grant sweeping immunity to baseball and other team sports from United States anti-trust laws.

The bill would enable professional teams to continue long established practices such as player drafts and baseball's reserve clause. It also would give clubs more authority over television and radio broadcasts of games.

The same standards would also cover football, basketball and hockey.

The House passed the bill by voice vote Tuesday. The Senate still must act if the measure is to become law.

"The bill, if passed, is one that all sports can live with, but it is in no sense a licence," said baseball commissioner Ford Frick. "The House has expressed its confidence in American sports. It is now up to us to demonstrate that the confidence is not misplaced."

Similar praise came from Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League and Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League.

Bell said he was "much gratified. If it passes the Senate, it will save pro football."

"I couldn't be more delighted," Campbell said. "The bill is precisely the thing we have been trying for since we were asked to make representations to the congressional committee on professional sports last August."

BUSINESS ONLY
The bill says, in effect, that only strictly business activities—things like stadium and concession operations—are subject to anti-trust prohibitions, a gainst monopoly and business restraints.

It says anti-trust laws cannot apply to contracts, agreements or other practices in the big four sports as they relate to:

1. Equalization of competitive playing strength.
2. The employment, selection or eligibility of players, or the reservation, selection or assignment of player contracts.
3. The right of teams and clubs to operate within specified geographic areas.
4. Regulation of rights to broadcast and telecast reports and pictures of games.
5. The preservation of public confidence in the honesty in sports contests (through commissioners' offices).

The bill preserves the right of players to bargain collectively and have their own player organizations.

Los Angeles	29	36	.446	8 1/2

Those St. Louis Cardinals, finding a new hero for each series, have slam-banged into second place in the National League race on a month-long ride from the depths.

It was Joe Cunningham's late-inning belts that gave the Cards a split in four games at Cincinnati last week. Then it was Ken Boyer's bat that beat the first place Braves in two of three at Milwaukee. And now it's Curt Flood doing the job against Pittsburgh.

The 20-year-old centerfielder, with four hits in Monday's success, killed the Pirates again Tuesday night, breaking up Ronnie Kline's shutout bid with a two-run homer in the ninth for a 2-1 victory that extended St. Louis' winning string to four. Phil Paine won it in relief.

The Cards, who were in seventh place a month ago, now are .002 percentage points ahead of San Francisco Giants, who slid-ded to third with a 2-1 defeat at Milwaukee.

In the other National League games, rookie John Briggs won his first in the majors with an eight-hit shutout as the Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 3-0. And last place Los Angeles Dodgers swept a tough two-night pair at Cincinnati, winning 13-10 in 10 innings and 7-2 in 11.

Warren Spahn, who had lost three in a row, stopped that nonsense with a three-hitter against the Giants, getting the runs he needed on a pair of homers, Ed Mathews' 15th and Joe Adcock's ninth. Rookie Felipe Alou had two of the Giant hits, one his third home run. Stu Miller (1-4) lost it.

Briggs, 24, a righthander with a flock of bone chips in his elbow, struck out six and walked four—blanking the Phils on two hits over the last five innings. Al Dark's single, a sacrifice and an error gave the Cubs the big run in the sixth off Jack Sanford, now his fourth homer, with one on, in the seventh.

The Dodgers, who have won four of their last five, blew leads in both games. They nailed the opener with three in the 10th on homers by Gil Hodges and Joe Pignatano off Don Newcomb, the loser.

Duke Snider and Hodges homered for an early lead in the nightcap and then drove in three runs between them in a five-run third straight. Sandy Koufax (11-5) won the opener in relief and saved the second game for rookie Dick Williams (3-1).

Walt Dropo, purchased from the Chicago White Sox earlier in the nightcap with his first National League homer, off rookie Bob Giallombardo.

Lexy Cameron Honored By WA

The home of Mrs. O. St. P. Aitkens, Christleton Ave., was the lovely setting for a "Birthday Tea" last Friday, when members and associates of the Afternoon Branch of St. Michael's WA and those who helped at the flower show gathered at Mrs. Aitkens' invitation.

Miss Lexy Cameron, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alister Cameron, was the guest of honor. Miss Cameron is a local girl, educated in Kelowna and UBC and receiving her Master's degree in religious education from Theological Seminary in New York, in 1957. She expects to go overseas this fall.

Facets Of Fashion

By GWEN COWLEY

SUMMERTIME with its gay, free and easy living, is just ahead, and shop windows are full of pretty clothes for a maximum of fun. In New York the other day we saw exciting new frocks for the office, going to the beach and for summer vacations. The chemise, particularly, is shown in summer mood, with its neat, comfortable lines. Many have the overblouse, or middie look, almost all are sleeveless, of cottons or silks that need a minimum of care. Just as popular are tiny waisted dresses with billowing skirts of gossamer sheers to waft bewitchingly in a summer breeze. Permanently pleated skirts were shown, too, with textured cotton knit blouses, tops, wonderful "separates" for daytime, travel or holidays.

JUST AS ATTRACTIVE and demure as high style are summer togs made in Canada. Trend is toward white with floral trim, many of white sharkskin which launders with a minimum of trouble. Favorite "separates" fabric by the Canadian stylist designing those shown, is silky "Sorento" an Italian weave used for a neat skirt and co-ordinated striped blouse, with colors dyed to match.

NEW YORKERS are wearing about 50-50 proportion of waist-line frocks and the "chemise", always with the prettiest hats we've seen in seasons. There's a vogue, too, for pale pastel leather jackets, many having a slightly luminous, iridescent sheen, looking as soft as silk, and easily kept clean by being wiped with a damp cloth.

THERE'S NEWS in lingerie. From France comes a trend for wider laces to trim petticoats, night-gowns and peignoirs, a high fashion tip for bridal shoppers. For summer, too, French lingerie designers are favoring cotton also trimmed with wide lace flounces, insertion, yokes. Lingerie seen in New York recently is definitely more feminine and frilly, with shorted, above-the-knee versions, for wearing under the "chemise".

All Florences Will Be Asked To Aid Memorial

LONDON (CP)—A few years ago, a popular song described the plight of a young man who lost his girl on one of the Thousand Islands and spent his time and the money of the juke-box patrons hollering "Florence" as he rowed up the river in search of her.

An unusual fund-raising drive for a hospital chapel has extended his quest to world-girdling proportions.

Sponsors of the fund to build a Florence Nightingale memorial chapel for Southampton General Hospital are making a special effort to reach women named Florence all over the world to obtain contributions for a lamp of remembrance for the Canadian War nurse who was born in Florence, Italy, and was the first to bear the name.

Miss Nightingale, who is buried five miles from the hospital, pioneered nursing and hospital services all over the world and her name became a vogue in English-speaking families of succeeding generations.

The fund reports an excellent initial response from Florences in all parts of Britain.

Need For More Women In Public Life Says PM

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday the proportion of women in Canada's public life is "unusually low."

Mr. Diefenbaker, officially opening the week-long 50th anniversary convention of the Canadian Nurses Association here, told more than 2,000 delegates and guests in the flag-decked Coliseum that the last 50 years have brought many changes to Canadian women.

"But these changes have not been applied to their public life," he said. Canada needs women's participation in public life "more than ever before." There now are two women in Canada's House of Commons.

NEEDS LOVE

The execution last week of the former Hungarian prime minister and his associates, "brings to mind the terrible tragedy of mankind," the prime minister said.

"Infinite love and dedication to the welfare of fellow citizens is so needed in the world. . . . The future is in your hands, you who mould the future and make possible the alleviation of the sorrows of mankind," he said.

The prime minister was accompanied by Mrs. Diefenbaker for the opening ceremony that included greetings from Lyle Creelman of Vancouver, chief of the World Health Organization's nursing section, and Mathilda Scheller of Philadelphia, president of the American Nurses Association.

A message from the Queen expressed congratulations and good wishes on the CNA's 50th anniversary.

Nurses' Convention Features Pageant

OTTAWA (CP)—Fifty years and more of nursing in Canada rolled by here in a picture-postcard pageant played to 3,600 ticket holders in the capital's Coliseum.

There were songs, dances, snatches of satire, laughs and thoughtful scenes as the Canadian Nurses Association presented Cavalcade in White, on the opening night of its week-long 50th anniversary convention.

The CNA business sessions continue today with reports from national committees, a discussion of present and future nursing and a second open-to-the-public performance of the pageant in the evening.

Professionally written and produced, the pageant dipped back to the arrival of Ursuline and Augustinian sisters in Quebec in 1639.

But it also proved up to date with a "first night" for the new slate-blue bush and dress uniforms to be worn by Indian and northern health services nurses. In more than two hours on stage, no phase of nursing service—from student nurses and sisters serving in religious orders to the integrated forces of civil defence nursing teams—was left undramatized.

Earlier Pearl Silver, CNA general secretary, reported that the numbers of nurses entering Canada still doesn't quite match the numbers leaving. She said 114 nurses come to Canada each month—but nurses also are leaving at the rate of 118 a month.

"Nurses leaving Canada go chiefly to the United States. . . . We believe many of them return but we do not know how many. Because of the great mobility of nurses, accurate information is not available."

Wives Interviewed When Rookies Hired

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Police chief John Patrick interviews wives as well as the men when he is hiring new policemen. If wives do not understand the conditions under which their men work, trouble may arise at home.

The idea of interviewing wives was introduced about eight years ago when deputy chief Ewan Cameron found the work of some of the recruits was being affected by marital discord.

"We realized the situation could have been avoided if the women were interviewed before a man was hired," he said.

"We found that women did not always realize the weather conditions in which police must work; the jobs they must do, or how being a policeman interferes with social life."

"If a policeman's wife does not like his working conditions, it causes dissatisfaction at home. This in turn results in police developing a bad attitude towards work."

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Clew Morden was given a golden cup and saucer when she completed 50 years as a member of the Mount Pleasant women's institute here.

School Days Should Start At 2 Says Child Education Expert

by EDNA USHER

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Children should start school at two years of age, says Mrs. T. J. Warren, of Toronto, whose own three-year-old, Wanda, has already been at school for a year.

"Two, or a little older, is the age to start preparing children for primary school, and progressive work through nursery school and kindergarten is the best way to do it," said Mrs. Warren.

The 29-year-old nursery school teacher is president of the Ontario Council for Childhood Education, which is trying to coordinate the work of teachers in nursery schools, kindergartens and primary grades of public school.

NEED COMPANIONS

"Teachers have studied children scientifically and have decided that youngsters really need the companionship of children their own age when they are about two," she said.

"At the nursery schools they are taught how to get along with other children, and they are prepared for the slightly more formal classes of kindergarten."

Mrs. Warren explained that the usual way for an unschooled child to ask another to play with him was to give him a sharp slap.

"At nursery school, the child is taught other ways of making acquaintance, and that a slap may result in retaliation," she said.

Nursery school enables children to play with toys suited to their development.

"Research reported to the council shows that most parents buy toys which are too complicated for the child's mental or physical age."

"We have also found that the really simple toys that youngsters want in the two-to-five age group are not easily available in shops. So local groups affiliated to the council organize occasional workshops when teachers and parents are shown how to make cheap, simple toys."

What toys do children want? Brightly-colored blocks in large size, shapes they can fit together, toys which are simple to assemble but don't fall apart too easily, and holes to put pegs in, she said.

"At nursery school they have plenty of paint, paper and equipment, and they can experiment with paint without damaging the walls or furniture."

STARTING EARLY

Through the Ontario Council of Childhood Education children are prepared for kindergarten by playing with other children and becoming accustomed to being away from the parents.

In kindergarten a child is "broken in" to classroom routine, so that when he enters grade school he is ready to sit at a desk all day.

"Going to grade school after the early years at home can be quite a shock to a child," said Mrs. Warren. "Teachers working with very young children are convinced that early preparation for school is a tremendous help to the children, and to the primary grade teachers."

Nursery school enables children to play with toys suited to their development.

Africa Women Do Brisk Canada Flour Business

ACCRA (CP) — In the busy, open air markets of Ghana, plump African women do a brisk business in Canadian flour. For years more than 50 per cent of Canada's trade with Ghana and West Africa has been in flour. Last year Canada sold an estimated $2,250,000 worth of flour to this young Commonwealth country. This year about half the flour consumed by Ghana is expected to come from Canada.

The Canadian government is striving to find markets in the area for other Canadian products. For the first time there is a permanent Canadian trade representative in the area with the appointment last December of Morley Bursey as commercial counsellor in the new high commission office at Accra. Previously trade relations were handled from London.

"Apart from flour, there are a number of Canadian products that might sell here," said Bursey. "It is a brand new market for us and so far little promotional work has been done."

The prospects for increased Canadian trade are hopeful, he said. But Canadian exporters face three main problems—competition from other countries, tariffs and shipping connections.

"We are trying to sell competitive goods," Bursey said. "But the United Kingdom, continental countries or Japan produce more cheaply will not sell. Some of the Canadian products that possibly could be marketed in Ghana are malt for beer, against German competition; sardines, competing against Portuguese, Moroccan, Norwegian and British fish; laminated plastics; hardware lines and cars.

"It is a case of exploring new lines," Bursey said, adding that Canadian firms could not expect to promote their products without personal contact. This advice was echoed by George Odol, Ghana's assistant commissioner for commerce.

"It is up to Canadian exporters to make their goods attractive for the Ghana market," said Odol. "They can do this either by advertising or better still by personal representation."

LIBERAL POLICY

Although Ghana is a Commonwealth country, she offers no preferential tariffs to other Commonwealth members. The Ghana government authorizes a quota of

REMEMBER WHEN?

Schmeling And Louis Clashed In Bitter Fight 20 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—Hate waves swept across oceans and boomed on distant shores in 1938 when a proud German and an American boy from the cotton fields of Alabama met in a prize ring.

Hitler shrieked of a master race as Panzers rolled into Austria. Munich was around the corner.

Against this background of inflamed nationalism, Max Schmeling and Joe Louis clashed at Yankee Stadium 20 years ago Sunday night, June 22, 1938.

THRILLED MILLIONS

Two years earlier there had been a violent end. One short line "Louis by knockout in 2:04 of the first" tells the story, the 70,000 who watched and the millions who listened to the radio or saw the films never will forget.

Few matches had the buildup of this second meeting of the scowling Black Ulihan and the young Brown Bomber.

Two years earlier there never had been a better "sure thing" than Louis. The unbeaten Golden Glove graduate was headed toward the world heavyweight championship with 27 straight victories when he was matched with Schmeling for the first time in 1936. Schmeling, who held the title from 1930 to 1932, was in the midst of a comeback—a suitable opponent for the Louis buildup.

OVERWHELMED LOUIS

Louis, 10- to -1 favorite, was quickly disillusioned by the sturdy fists of Schmeling the methodical.

Schmeling hit the target in the fourth and Louis was down. Round after round, Louis took a heavy beating until it finally ended at 2:29 of the 12th.

Schmeling, who had left Germany without fanfare, flew home in triumph on the dirigible Hindenburg, a national hero.

But two years later Schmeling had been bypassed by Jimmy Braddock and Louis had won the championship. Joe, brought along carefully after the Schmeling disaster, now ruled the heavyweights.

BRITISH ON RECORD

But there was one chink in his armour. Schmeling paraded Europe, shouting Louis was afraid of him. A fire burned inside Louis with a pain that could not be eased until Schmeling was beaten.

Mike Jacobs, then Mr. Big of boxing with his 20th Century Sporting Club, made the rematch after Louis had "warmed up" against Britain's Tommy Farr.

Max, 32, was eight years older than the new champion, yet fans still remembered the first time. At ringtime Joe was the favorite again, but only 9 to 5.

Louis has said many times since that he never had hard feeling toward Schmeling, that he never hated with the blind hate that knows no mercy.

EYES REVEALED IT

Perhaps the years have softened the man, but the boxer who climbed through the ropes at Yankee Stadium 20 years ago was in a mood for vengeance. Hatred smouldered in his eyes though his face was a mask.

His body, coiled like a steel spring, was released by the opening bell.

Ring historians say 41 blows flailed Schmeling's body and head before referee Arthur Donovan stopped it at 2:04. Maybe it was 40, 50 or even 60. Who knows?

Those who watched still remember the flashing fists of Louis, Schmeling screaming in pain clutching the ropes. Max down for three, down for two and finally down on all fours while

Rangoon's Hotel Strand Proves Tourist Institution

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — There are 32 ceiling fans in the Strand Hotel dining room. For two years, one has needed an oiling.

The hotel waiters, costumed in white uniforms, bob up and down the hallways, their gait unchanged by years of service. The same meatless menus and same flat drinks to the faceless foreigners.

The Strand is an institution in Rangoon; it is the leading hotel. The owner is a friendly, cauliflower-eared ex-prize fighter from Armenia who would rather sit and listen to Marlene Dietrich records than to some of his guests complain.

Unloiled fans are the least of his worries.

Until recently, everything in Rangoon ran like the Strand fan. ROT SET IN Britons once called Rangoon the Jewel of Southeast Asia. A few years after the British left, Rangoon began to look like a soiled rhinestone.

The sparkling walls of English banks and department stores had turned grey with rot and dampness. The clean, paved avenues, once symbols of colonial efficiency, looked like open sewers.

The Burmese had an explanation.

"The war, you know," reminded that the war ended more than a dozen years before, they would shrug.

But things have gradually begun to change. In the last six months, Rangoon seems to have had its face washed. There is a little less garbage on the streets and a few of the potholes have been patched in.

Police have gone into hiding. The police have been clearing the streets of ramshackle huts which housed squatters.

CHANGING SCENE

The filth of downtown Rangoon from seeing the rest of the city. But the gold-leafed Shwe Dagon pagoda towers 326 feet, a magnificent symbol of the state religion—Buddhism.

There are hundreds of pagodas around. Rangoon also has many lotus-covered lakes which serve as serene backdrops for new buildings.

An ultra modern engineering college has been built adjoining Rangoon University. A housing project for the city's working class is near completion. A major hospital is in the initial stages of construction.

U.K. Families Seek Erection Of Monument

GREAT WALTHAM, England (CP) — Descendants of two old English families are seeking contributions from relatives in various parts of the world for the restoration of a 17th-century monument and foundation of a memorial chapel in this Essex village.

The families are the Everards, who have lived in the neighborhood of Great Waltham since the 13th century, and the Barnardistons, who trace their lineage through 30 generations.

The two families were linked by the marriage of Anne Barnardiston to Sir Anthony Everard, whose death in 1614 is commemorated by the monument in Great Waltham church.

THRONE FOR SALE

LONDON (Reuters)—A kingship was advertised for sale today in The Times. A "Caribbean kingship with royal prerogatives" was offered for 1,000 guineas ($3,000). No other details were given.

SHAKY EXPERIENCE

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP)—Carl E. Klein drove his wife to hospital here and then went for a drive to soothe his nerves while his son was being born. The baby arrived in fine style. Mother is in excellent condition. Klein hit a train. He was shaken up but otherwise unhurt.

his seconds hurled a towel into the ring.

In his dressing room, a blood-spattered Schmeling moaned about fouls and kidney punches. When he left for Germany a week later he went directly to the ship from the hospital.

Schmeling, now 52, is running a soft-drink plant in Hamburg.

Louis, 44, still is connected with the International Boxing Club on an annual salary, has a business in Chicago and travels a great deal doing referee work.

Sunglasses Should Be Fitted To Your Needs

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

I hate to harp about the same old subject all the time, but at least once each summer I feel duty bound to pass out a little advice about sunglasses.

There are important "dos" and "don'ts" all of us should follow so far as sunglasses are concerned.

GET PRESCRIPTION

For one thing, whether you ordinarily wear glasses or not, I suggest you have an eye specialist prescribe your sunglasses. He can determine the proper color and density of the lenses according to your individual requirements.

If you customarily wear glasses because of poor eyesight, you should, of course, have the lenses of your sunglasses ground according to your prescription.

HAVE DEFINITE FUNCTION

Sunglasses perform a definite function, a helpful function. They prevent visual discomfort and possible harm during exposure to bright sunshine or outdoor daytime glare. But unless they are adjusted correctly to your own particular requirements, they might be harmful.

For some persons, sunglasses should be bifocals or even trifocals. Such glasses will provide clear vision at more than one seeing range. Now, a few "don'ts."

Don't wear sunglasses to watch television and don't wear them while driving at night. I've discussed this before, but I can't over emphasize this last point.

The Society for the Prevention of Blindness strongly advises against the use of tinted or so-called "night driving" lenses for motorists using the streets and highways after dark.

GLARE A PROBLEM

Certainly glare from oncoming headlights is a problem in night driving.

But, the society warns, "No device yet perfected can diminish glare without diminishing visibility at the same time. Although some of these products may soften the headlights of an approaching car, they tend to obscure objects at the side of the road by cutting down our keenness of vision. This can result in needless injury and loss of life."

QUESTION AND ANSWER

D. T.: Can a man get a trichomonas infection?

Answer: Yes, very definitely. In fact, it has been reported quite frequently in men. Usually the infection is transmitted from the female.

Bergman Ponders "Wonderful" Welsh Way To Make A Living

By EDDY GILMORE

PENRYNDEUDRAETH (AP)—Ingrid Bergman sat on the side of a Welsh mountain sewing a pair of her son's pants.

"You know," she said reflectively, "I can't get over it—I never can. I mean—what a wonderful way this is to make a living."

With the hand that held the needle, she pointed to the scrambling activity of several hundred human beings in the valley. "Look at all those people and all that equipment. They're going to all that trouble and spending all that money just so someone can take a closeup picture of me."

JUST PLAYING

She smiled self-consciously. Then her eyes returned to the trousers of Roberto Rossellini Jr., a few more stitches and she looked up again.

"All children are great actors. And most actors and actresses are children. We're just playing, really. Just as we did when we were children."

"You have to work hard in this picture," a visitor commented. "What time do you get up?" "I get up about 6 o'clock. Yes, that's true. And sometimes it's very difficult to get up. But it's not hard work."

ICY CROSSINGS

She pointed at a stream near the base of Mt. Snowdon.

"I walked through that stream 18 times yesterday. And the water was cold. But we couldn't get the scene right, so we had to do it and do it."

"But isn't that work?"

"Oh, no," she laughed. "It's still playing."

ENGLISH HEROINE

In the picture she portrays Gladys Aylward, an Englishwoman who performed heroic work with Chinese orphans during the Chinese-Japanese war. The north Wales mountains vaguely resemble those of north China.

"Apart from the tragic death of Robert Donat," she said, "this is a pleasant picture for me."

Donat is a rich mandarin in the picture. His scenes were filmed outside London a few weeks before his death.

"He was such a sweet, gentle man," said the Swedish-born actress. "And his voice. I always think of it as noble. There seems to be no other word to describe it."

There was a long pause.

"This picture is pleasant because I'm playing a wonderful woman. Also, it's the first time I've ever had my children with me on location."

She lives with the six-year-old twins, Isabella and Ingrid, and a nurse in a small villa.

"My big daughter, she's at college now, is coming over," she added.

"And Roberto will be here, too. He's growing taller all the time," by way of explaining her sewing.

Miss Bergman's husband, producer Roberto Rossellini, is seeking an annulment of their marriage. It would surprise none of her close friends to see her try matrimony again—but she won't talk about that.

EUROPE "CAPITAL"

STRASBOURG, France (Reuters)—The six-nation European Parliamentary Assembly Monday named Brussels, Strasbourg and Milan as the three cities from which the "capital of Europe" must be selected.

The European Common Market, the Euratom Atomic Pool and the European Coal and Steel Community are likely to be centered in the city, to be chosen by a foreign ministers' meeting in Brussels next month.

PLEA DENIED

VIENNA (AP)—The wife of a Vienna businessman sued for divorce on the ground her husband spent every free hour listening to the music of Richard Wagner.

Judge, denying her plea, said enthusiasm for the works of one of the world's great composers cannot be regarded as mental cruelty in a city so proud of its musical tradition.

The first hooked anchors for ships, replacing stones or sandbags, were used by the ancient Greeks.

MERRY MENAGERIE

"Stop worrying—he'll grow into it!"

"That would just cause more inflation."

"ON THE OTHER HAND, IF I CUT YOUR SALARY, THAT WOULD CAUSE DEFLATION."

"YOU WOULDN'T WANT US TO UPSET OUR NATION'S ECONOMY, WOULD YOU, DAGWOOD?"

"THAT'S A GOOD BOY."

"FALSE ALARM! A BIRD LIT ON THE WIRE AND SET OFF MY BERRY-PATCH BURGLAR ALARM!"

"LOOKS LIKE YOU'VE BECOME A REAL 'ROCK-HOUND'!"

"YEAH... I GOT THIN FEVER!"

"OH, BOY!"

"I'LL SAY ONE THING! YOU NEVER DO THINGS BY HALVES!"

"HMM... WHAT CLUB SHOULD I USE HERE, DEWEY?"

"A FIVE IRON, UNCA DONALD!"

"OH, OH! YOU SURE SELFPICK THAT ONE!"

"WELL, WHAT DO I NEED ON THIS ONE?"

"A SEVEN IRON... AND A..."

"TWELVE-GAUGE SHOTGUN!"

"CURT FARROW THINKS YOU'RE IN JAIL FOR RUSTLING MY STEERS, RIPLEY! YOU STAY UNDER COVER HERE UNTIL HE SHOWS HIS HAND!"

"OKAY, ROGERS! I NEVER HAD IT GO GOOD! I JUST HOPE MY DAUGHTER JUDY IS TENDIN' TO HER PLOWING AT HOME!"

"HERE COMES FARROW NOW! WE'LL SEE WHAT'S ON HIS MIND!"

"WELL, IF IT ISN'T CURT FARROW! I GOT SOMETHIN' TO TELL ROGERS!"

"NONG OF YOUR BUSINESS, DUDE! I GOT SOMETHIN' TO TELL ROGERS!"

"SAMMY! GET MY GLASSES OFF THAT DOG THIS INSTANT... THE VERY IDEA!"

"WELL, GEE, GRANDMA, IF YOU LET HIM USE THIS SPARE PAIR... HE MIGHT BE A BETTER WATCHDOG!"

"LOOK! I NEED BOTH PAIRS TO KEEP AN EYE ON YOU AND VICKIE!"

"BUT YOU HAVE GOT EYES IN THE BACK OF YOUR HEAD LIKE VICKIE SAID!"

"HAREWOOD THE HOME OF SAMUEL WASHINGTON—brother of President George Washington—HAS BEEN LOCATED IN 2 STATES—VIRGINIA AND WEST VIRGINIA—AND 3 COUNTIES—FREDERICK-BERKELEY AND JEFFERSON."

"THE BLOWING STONE USED BY KING ALFRED THE GREAT TO SUMMON HIS WARRIORS STILL PRODUCES THE SOUND OF A BUELE WHEN BLOWN INTO 1058 YEARS LATER."

Opening lead—six of hearts.

From Evansville, Ind., comes this query. A reader wants to know what went wrong with the bidding in reaching six notrump, which was defeated two tricks.

Quite a bit, in our view. North's bids were perfectly all right. He bid his hand naturally, showing both suits, and responded correctly to South's Blackwood bids by showing no aces and three kings.

But South wrecked a good hand and wound up with a minus score by misbidding. There was nothing wrong with the opening two bid, nor with naming clubs first since he had greater length in clubs. And the two spade rebids was also correct.

The trouble started, though, when South bid four clubs instead of three spades. There is a stock way of showing 6-5 distribution and South missed his cue.

By bidding three spades, he would have identified a five-card spade suit, since it would be insane to bid spades twice with only a four-card suit after support for the suit had been denied.

Moreover, the three spade bid would have identified a six-card club suit since, if South had had equal length in both suits, he would presumably have opened the bidding with two spades, the higher ranking of two suits of equal length.

That was mistake number one. The second error came when South undertook to use the Blackwood convention without knowing where he was heading. The four notrump bid is an excellent gadget when learning the number of aces partner has is essential to discovering the best contract.

But in this case the prime concern was to first find a playable trump suit. The bidding should have gone:

South North

 4♦ 5♦
 5NT 6NT

It would not have been difficult for either player to recognize in this sequence the presence of a misfit.

Enthusiastic Response For Stratford 2nd Play

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—With a sparkling production of "Much Ado About Nothing," Stratford's second play of the season Tuesday night unfolded a sure-fire winner for its sixth annual Shakespearean festival.

A near-capacity theatre was held spell-bound by a cast moulded by director Michael Langham, who for three tenderly effervescent hours unfolded the trap whereby Beatrice gets her Benedick and Claudio his Hero.

The standing ovation accorded the superbly presented Shakespearean romantic comedy was in marked contrast to the formal applause aroused by opening night's presentation of Henry IV, Part One.

CRITICS HAPPY

Critics, divided in appreciation of Stratford's "Henry," closed unanimously in approval of its "Much Ado."

There was a virtually no reservation in their unstinted praise of the production—its acting, staging, music and direction. Michael Langham, who regrettably missed the festival, rejoiced that in "Much Ado" he has restored Stratford to its pre-eminence in Shakespearean comedy.

The season's third play, The Winter's Tale, reaches the celebrated apron stage Monday, July 21. Meanwhile there is a wealth of other fare—musical, cinematic, graphic and literary—to attract the festival visitor.

Britain's Eileen Herlie and Montreal's Christopher Plummer, matched foils for rapier sarcasm, tender wit and bickering agreement to marry in mutual "pity," pace this play throughout. They don't "make" the production, for it is of whole cloth, but they do keep it sparkling, fresh, delightful and true.

MARRIAGE TRAP

Beatrice and Benedick, obviously marriageable types, start out intent on remaining single. But lovers Claudio and Hero spin a web that traps them into wedlock, which Benedick rationalizes in the memorable line: "The world must be peopled."

Director Langham, in mounting this production, teamed grandly with designer Desmond Heeley of London, England, who has cast the play in a late Victorian setting.

John Horton of Kitchener and London, Ont., made a fine Claudio and Diana Maddox of Montreal a virtuous Hero.

Tony van Bridge of Toronto, blustering Constable Dogberry with a fine flair for using the wrong high-sounding words, was a gem.

Gas Men Told Cut Demands On Ottawa

MURRAY BAY, Que. (CP)—Col. Maurice Forget, president of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation, says too many persons demand too much from government—"an extremely dangerous trend for the individual as well as for the state."

In an address today to the annual meeting of the Canadian Gas Association, he warned that the more people expect from the state, the more they have to give up in rights as individuals.

"It is the state's right and duty to act as watch-dog and controller. But this privilege and prerogative can and must prevail within the framework of a system safeguarding and improving private possessions of every person."

Colonel Forget welcomed the 250 representatives of the gas producers, pipeline companies, utilities and appliance and equipment manufacturers as the association's business sessions opened.

Older Canadians Said Neglecting Polio Shots

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians old enough to know better are the ones who neglect to take advantage of polio vaccine protection.

This is the word from federal health authorities like Dr. G. D. W. Cameron, deputy minister of health, who said in an interview that "the young adult who misses this insurance is just crazy."

Dr. Cameron said most health authorities concerned with the polio vaccination program, begun in Canada in 1955, believe the most important age groups to be reached now are pre-school children and young adults.

He figured the toughest group to reach will be adults up to about 40 years old. Many wives had been to their doctors for the vaccine, but it was harder to get husbands to take the time.

Yet, said Dr. Cameron, "some of the worst tragedies caused by polio have occurred in young adults, most of whom didn't die."

Once during a polio epidemic in Winnipeg more than 20 young pregnant wives were in iron lungs.

The Salk polio vaccine is considered 80 to 85 per cent effective against the disease.

Federal health experts estimate that more than 5,000,000 Canadians had received one or more of the required three inoculations up to June 1. About 75 per cent of these are estimated to have had all three shots.

Of the total, it is estimated that 80 to 90 per cent are between three months and 19 years old.

The prevention program comes under provincial jurisdiction, but the federal government splits the cost of providing the vaccine with any province that makes it available free.

The greatest reduction in polio incidence since 1955 has occurred in school-age children. Now health authorities are anxious to see a wider segment of the population receive the protection.

SEA LION ON LOOSE

The way to capture a sea lion, according to authorities on the subject, is to holler "boo" in a loud voice. The sea lion is then supposed to head for a handy beach and whimper in fright while he is lassoed. But the sea lion that escaped from Springbank park in London, Ont., so far hasn't come close enough to hear anyone say boo and is heading for the wide open spaces of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. Zoo keepers fear that he may not survive long in lake water which will injure his eyes.

July Best Month To See Rare Atlantic Fish

HALIFAX (CP)—Dr. Harrison R. Lewis, former chief of the Canadian Wildlife Service, says July is the best month for tourists to see the rare Atlantic puffin.

The rarest of Atlantic coast birds, the puffin now is almost extinct. About 600 live in one of its last known breeding grounds in St. Anne's Bay, Cape Breton Island.

Dr. Harrison recently visited the grounds and said the species were active and healthy. The puffin is a laughable, feathered clown. The birds swim under water and bob like corks on the surface. Their grotesque bills are almost as long as their heads.

RETIREES AT 107

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—"Aunt" Pinky Gaines, 107, says she's retiring and heading for the beach, even though "I look like a fool wearin' them shawl britches." The Negro woman said the time had come to quit her chores at Cabarrus Memorial Hospital here because of "stiff knees."

Inquest Jury Deliberates In Police Deaths

PEPPERLAW, Ont. (CP)—A five-man jury is expected to begin deliberations today in an inquest into the death of an RCMP corporal who was drowned with four other officers when a 14-foot boat capsized during a night patrol on Lake Simcoe.

A series of water tests of the death boat were scheduled today at the request of the jury, which has heard two days of testimony from 40 witnesses.

The inquest is being held specifically into the death of Cpl. Herbert Smart, 34, of Toronto, whose body was found Sunday, June 8, the day after the patrol on the wind-whipped lake.

Missing are the bodies of RCMP Const. Glen Farough, 21, of Brandon, Man., skipper of the boat, Const. Morris Melnychuk, 21, of Foam Lake, Sask., Const. George Hanson, 36, of Cornwall, Sask., and Const. David Terry, 21, of Vancouver.

Swede Freighter Rams Tanker In East River

NEW YORK (AP)—A Swedish freighter rammed an oil tanker in the East River early today, flinging sheets of blazing gasoline into the air and setting fire to Manhattan Bridge far above. The tanker sank. At least four of its crew were missing.

Sailors plunged into the war and swam past flaming oil slicks, screaming for help to horror-stricken watchers on shore. Crew members on rescue boats, swarming from all over New York harbor, dragged most of them to safety.

The crash filled the teeming East River with gasoline from the sunken tanker. An urgent warning was issued against smoking in the area.

WIDE WORLD SHORT STORIES

CHECHNIK MUST DIE

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Milos Tomic, war-time commander of a group of Yugoslav Chetniks—royalist guerrillas—was sentenced Monday to death by shooting for war crimes. He was accused of murdering several sympathizers of President Tito's Communist partisans.

12 DIE IN CAR

HAVANA (AP)—Sixteen persons—all related—crowded into an auto today to return from an outing to a beach. The car overturned as a result of a tire blow-out, killing 12. The other four were injured.

DESPERATE FOR HOME

WINCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters)—A widow faced with an eviction order threatened to kill her four children unless she got a home. A court was told Monday. After finding Mrs. Evelyn Nelson, 37, not guilty of sending a threatening letter, the judge said steps should be taken to find her a home.

TREAT JAPANESE GIRL

LONDON (Reuters)—Moscow radio reported Monday that a 20-year-old Japanese girl, injured by the atomic bomb dropped on Nagasaki 13 years ago, has arrived in Moscow to be treated by Russian doctors.

CRUSADE PROFIT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham's headquarters announced Monday that his seven-week San Francisco crusade realized a profit of between $20,000 and $40,000. This was the amount left after expenses of the $245,000 donated by about 700,000 people who attended.

TOO RESTLESS

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Faith Domergue has obtained a separate maintenance decree from the husband she says "gets restless being in one place too long." Miss Domergue, 32, testified in superior court Monday she wanted to make a home in southern California, but film director Hugo Fregonese, 50, "wants to stay in Europe and be a free agent."

YEN FOR BOOTS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Two weeks ago someone stole Wardlaw Lane's cowboy boots from his car while he was camped on Bull Creek. This weekend Lane camped again at the same spot. His boots were stolen from his car again. And this time the thieves stripped his car.

CIRCUS RIDER DIES

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—Phil Wirth, 69, a comic circus horseback rider who performed for nearly half a century, died Monday of a heart attack. Wirth, whose real name was Philip V. St. Leon, was a member of the May-Wirth troupe, billed by the Ringling Brothers circus in 1916-27. Later the troupe toured the world as a vaudeville act.

GAS POWER PLANT

GANANOQUE, Ont. (CP)—Gananoque Electric Light and Power Company Monday announced the first Eastern Canadian plant to generate electricity from natural gas will be built near this town 17 miles east of Kingston. Initial capacity of the plant, to be started this summer, would be 3,160 horsepower. The plant would consume 500,000 to 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

HOUSING STARTS UP

OTTAWA (CP)—A total of 14,228 new dwelling units was started in Canada last May, a 63.6-per-cent increase over the 8,695 started in May, 1952, a preliminary housing report said Monday. The survey covers centres of 5,000 or more population.

U.S. POSTING

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Heinz Lehmann of Montreal, associate professor of psychiatry at McGill University who is credited with first introducing tranquilizers to North America, has been appointed visiting professor at University of Cincinnati for the academic year 1958-59.

BRIBE BACKFIRES

OSHAWA (CP)—Victor Powell, 30, of Courtland, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary Monday for trying to bribe an Indian to confess to robbing telephone coinboxes. Evidence was that Powell offered an Indian youth a dump truck and $500. The Indian confessed but police didn't believe him.
